During my term in Office, we have Accomplished a lot

Every five years, we are audited by State Board of Equalization. Last four BOE audits, we have met BOE standards 98% - 99%.

Assessment roll has increased 472% ($115 billion in 1995 to $551 billion in 2020).

Staff increased only 4.5% during those 26 years.

Santa Clara County employment has increased 64% during the same time.

Returned $21.6 million of the Assessors budget back to the County General Fund unspent.

THE RESULT: Nearly $6 billion in property tax revenue each year for schools and local government.

Assessed Values Have Become a Treasured Commodity

Proposition 13: Revolutionizes Property Taxes

- Assessments are based upon the purchase price at a change of ownership or new construction, and then increased by no more than 2 percent a year.
- Assessments no longer tied to market. Over time, far less than market values.
- One's low assessed value has become a prized asset.

Propositions Galore

- Proposition 58
- Proposition 60
- Proposition 90
- Proposition 110
- Proposition 193

Proposition 60

- Passed in 1986
- Enables homeowners over the age of 55, to transfer their coveted assessed value to another home of equal or lesser value, without reassessment to market value.
- Designed for empty nesters wishing to downsize.

PROP 60 & 90
Transfer your Property Tax
When Downsizing

Proposition 90

- Passed in 1988
- Expands Proposition 60 benefit, at County option, to other counties.
- Only 10 counties of 58 participate. The reason? Loss of property tax revenue.

Amendment 1, Save Our Homes

In 2008, Florida voters passed Amendment 1.

Allowed homeowners, just like Prop. 19, to retain low property taxes when they move to a new home.

Initiated by realtors. More transactions, more commissions.

Proposition 5

- Purchase a larger, more expensive home
- Move all you want
- Move anywhere in the State

California Proposition 5

In 1975, purchased home in Sunnyvale, a modest tract house for $85,000.

Currently assessed for $276,000.

Zillow says the market value of my home is $3.1 million.

In the 43 years, I have paid a total of $78,000 in property taxes.

Proposition 13 has allowed me to save at least $500,000 simply by owning the same home for many years.

Proposition 58/193: Inheritance Exclusion

- Children can inherit their parent's principle residence, and retain their low assessed value
- Estimated 60,000 to 80,000 property owners used benefit
- Annual cost: as much as $1.5 billion in property taxes
- Allows the transfer of additional property assessed at $1 million

Beau & Jeff Bridges inherited from their actor-father Lloyd Bridges, a four-bedroom Malibu home with access to a semi-private beach and panoramic views of the Pacific Ocean.

Rented home for $16,000 a month.

Paid approx. $5,000 a year in property tax.

The Property Tax Inheritance Exclusion

MAC TAYLOR • LEGISLATIVE ANALYST • OCTOBER 2017

Summary

Ownership Changes Trigger Higher Tax Bills. Under California's property tax system, the change in ownership of a property is an important event. When a property changes hands the taxes paid for the property typically increase—often substantially. Local government revenues increase in turn.

Special Rules for Inherited Properties. While most properties' tax bills go up at the time of transfer, three decades ago the Legislature and voters created special rules for inherited properties. These rules essentially allow children (or grandchildren) to inherit their parent's (or grandparent's) lower property tax bill.

Inheritance Exclusion Benefits Many but Has Drawbacks. The decision to create an inherited property exclusion has been consequential. Hundreds of thousands of families have received tax relief under these rules. As a result, local government property tax collections have been reduced by a few billion dollars per year. Moreover, allowing children to inherit their parents' lower property tax bill has exacerbated inequities among owners of similar properties. It also appears to have encouraged the conversion of some homes from owner-occupied primary residences to rentals and other uses.

Revisiting the Inheritance Exclusion. In light of these consequences, the Legislature may want to revisit the inheritance exclusion. We suggest the Legislature consider what goal it wishes to achieve with this policy. If the goal is to prevent property taxes from making it prohibitively expensive for a family to continue to own or occupy a property, the existing policy is crafted too broadly and there are options available to better target the benefits. Ultimately, however, any changes to the inheritance exclusion will have to be placed before voters.

COMMENTARY

Proposition 19's tortuous journey to the ballot

BY DAN WALTERS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2020

IN SUMMARY

California's Proposition 19 refights old battles as it alters laws governing property tax assessments.

Proposition 19 shares one characteristic with most of the other 11 measures on California's ballot this year: It rekindles a political conflict from years past.

However, Proposition 19 has meandered a particularly convoluted pathway to the ballot, which explains why it wound up with three distinct sections, to wit:

- It would expand current law's limited right for Californians over 55 to move to new homes while retaining the taxable property values of their previous residences;
- It would erase a provision of property tax law that allows those who inherit expensive homes to retain their relatively low taxable values while converting the homes into income-producing rentals; and
- It would dedicate some of the additional revenue from the loophole closure to local and state firefighting agencies.

Fair & Equitable Assessments is Job

#1

Assessors

- A property should receive the same treatment no matter where it is located.
- Legislature, “Skinny bill” – will provide Assessors on how to administer the parent-to-child provisions of Prop. 19.

Effective April 1, 2021, Proposition 19 permits eligible homeowners (defined as over 55, severely disabled, or whose homes were destroyed by wildfire or disaster) to transfer their primary residence's assessment to a replacement residence of any value, anywhere in the state

Keep their lower property tax assessment when moving to another home anywhere in the state.

Use special rules to move to a more expensive home.

Use these special rules three times in their lifetime.

Proposition 60 and Proposition 90 sunset on March 31, 2021.

To receive the expanded portability benefits of Proposition 19, homeowners must complete at least one of the transactions on or after April 1.

Property owners have two years from the transfer of the first property to complete the second transaction.

Proposition 19 also supplements existing transfer provisions exclusively for victims of wildfire or disaster, or owners who are “severely disabled.” Upon implementation, taxpayers will have to determine and apply for those provisions which are most advantageous for their circumstances.

Starting February 16, 2021, Proposition 19 narrows property tax benefits for inherited properties

Narrows the assessed value that can be transferred to two kinds of inherited property:

- * property used continuously by the child or grandchild as a primary home, or
- * property held as a family farm.

Convuluted formula to qualify and to compute the benefit.

Assessed value of an inherited home or farm would increase if the price the property could be sold for exceeds the property's assessed value by more than $1 million (adjusted for inflation every two years).

To make things easier, our office has developed an electronic calculator that will enable residents to calculate the savings.

Eliminates Proposition 58 and 193

Santa Clara County Assessor's office will accept notarized documents, recorded or not, executed before the deadline to effect the benefit of Prop. 58.

The screenshot displays the website for the Office of the Assessor, County of Santa Clara (SCCGov). The main heading is "Prop 19 Assessment Estimator for Parent to Child/Grandparent to Grandchild Transfer Effective February 16, 2021". Below the heading, there is a search bar and a "What is Prop 19?" section. A key message states: "This tool estimates the property tax impact of transferring your principal residence to your child or grandchild under Prop 19, which becomes effective February 16, 2021." There are search options for "Simple Address Search", "Advanced Address Search", and "Search by APN". A "Please Read:" section provides detailed information about the estimator's purpose and how it works. On the right side, there are navigation links for "Home", "Online Services", "Property Information", "Tax Savings", "Forms and Publications", "About Us", "FAQ", "Member Services", and "Customer Survey". A sidebar on the right contains "Understanding Proposition 13", "Important Dates", "Contact Us", and "Appointments".
